The Growing Importance of Private Label

Equity

Highlights from Our Conference Call with TradeStone Software

- Our Take — Our conference call with TradeStone Software reinforced the growing importance of private label for retailers, especially as the acceptance of private label among consumers grows. We expect retailers to continue to expand their private label offerings as a way to differentiate their offering, expand gross margins, and improve profitability.
- Conference Call with TradeStone Software — We hosted a conference call with Sue Welch, Founder and CEO of TradeStone Software, to discuss how retailers can use private label to protect and grow their market share and margins.
- Private Label Demanding Greater Resources — Retailers are investing greater resources into their private label assortments to cater to consumers who are increasingly focused on finding value through private brands. A February 2008 study by RSR Research found that 77% of retailers had increased their private label merchandise mix over the past two years, compared to 44% of retailers who responded similarly the prior year. TradeStone believes that retailers should benefit from an integrated infrastructure that unifies the buying process to effectively increase their private label assortments while minimizing the risks associated with rapidly adjusting their assortments.
- Merchandise Lifecycle Management Gaining Traction — Retailers that are expanding their private label brands are turning to merchandise lifecycle management (MLM) more often as a way to lower costs and improve the buying process, according to TradeStone. MLM integrates product lifecycle management, global sourcing, order management, logistics and finance, and supplier management onto one platform to help improve information flow, increase speed to market, and lower costs.
- Opportunity for Food Retailers to Adopt MLM — TradeStone believes that food retailers have an opportunity to use MLM to expand their food and non-food private label offerings. We believe that the food retailers are relatively under-penetrated in private label, and we expect to see more food retailers use private label as a way to differentiate their offering and expand their margins in an increasingly competitive environment.

% of companies in each rating category that are investment banking clients	46%	45%	39%

Guide to Citi Investment Research & Analysis (CIRA) Fundamental Research Investment Ratings:

CIRA's stock recommendations include a risk rating and an investment rating.

Risk ratings, which take into account both price volatility and fundamental criteria, are: Low (L), Medium (M), High (H), and Speculative (S).

Investment ratings are a function of CIRA's expectation of total return (forecast price appreciation and dividend yield within the next 12 months) and risk rating.

For securities in developed markets (US, UK, Europe, Japan, and Australia/New Zealand), investment ratings are: Buy (1) (expected total return of 10% or more for Low-Risk stocks, 15% or more for Medium-Risk stocks, 20% or more for High-Risk stocks, and 35% or more for Speculative stocks); Hold (2) (0%-10% for Low-Risk stocks, 0%-15% for Medium-Risk stocks, 0%-20% for High-Risk stocks, and 0%-35% for Speculative stocks); and Sell (3) (negative total return).

For securities in emerging markets (Asia Pacific, Emerging Europe/Middle East/Africa, and Latin America), investment ratings are: Buy (1) (expected total return of 15% or more for Low-Risk stocks, 20% or more for Medium-Risk stocks, 30% or more for High-Risk stocks, and 40% or more for Speculative stocks); Hold (2) (5%-15% for Low-Risk stocks, 10%-20% for Medium-Risk stocks, 15%-30% for High-Risk stocks, and 20%-40% for Speculative stocks); and Sell (3) (5% or less for Low-Risk stocks, 10% or less for Medium-Risk stocks, 15% or less for High-Risk stocks, and 20% or less for Speculative stocks).

Investment ratings are determined by the ranges described above at the time of initiation of coverage, a change in investment and/or risk rating, or a change in target price (subject to limited management discretion). At other times, the expected total returns may fall outside of these ranges because of market price movements and/or other short-term volatility or trading patterns. Such interim deviations from specified ranges will be permitted but will become subject to review by Research Management. Your decision to buy or sell a security should be based upon your personal investment objectives and should be made only after evaluating the stock's expected performance and risk.

Guide to Citi Investment Research & Analysis (CIRA) Corporate Bond Research Credit Opinions and Investment Ratings: CIRA's corporate bond research issuer publications include a fundamental credit opinion of Improving, Stable or Deteriorating and a complementary risk rating of Low (L), Medium (M), High (H) or Speculative (S) regarding the credit risk of the company featured in the report. The fundamental credit opinion reflects the CIRA analyst's opinion of the direction of credit fundamentals of the issuer without respect to securities market vagaries. The fundamental credit opinion is not geared to, but should be viewed in the context of debt ratings issued by major public debt ratings companies such as Moody's Investors Service, Standard and Poor's, and Fitch Ratings. CBR risk ratings are approximately equivalent to the following matrix: Low Risk Triple A to Low Double A; Low to Medium Risk High Single A through High Triple B; Medium to High Risk Mid Triple B through High Double B; High to Speculative Risk Mid Double B and Below. The risk rating element illustrates the analyst's opinion of the relative likelihood of loss of principal when a fixed income security issued by a company is held to maturity, based upon both fundamental and market risk factors. Certain reports published by CIRA will also include investment ratings on specific issues of companies under coverage which have been assigned fundamental credit opinions and risk ratings. Investment ratings are a function of CIRA's expectations for total return, relative return (to publicly available Citigroup bond indices performance), and risk rating. These investment ratings are: Buy/Overweight the bond is expected to outperform the relevant Citigroup bond market sector index (Broad Investment Grade, High Yield Market or Emerging Market), performances of which are updated monthly and can be viewed at <http://sd.ny.ssm.com/> using the "Indexes" tab; Hold/Neutral Weight the bond is expected to perform in line with the relevant Citigroup bond market sector index; or Sell/Underweight the bond is expected to underperform the relevant sector of the Citigroup indexes.
